Punnets

Punnets are specially designed and formulated for packing of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables. This will provide a type of packaging that has the same transparency and resistance as the one obtained from virgin raw material and that, at the same time, guarantees perfect sustainability at every level, dramatically reducing the environmental impact. These specially crafted punnets are designed to not only provide safety to the fresh produce but also help in increasing shelf life of the produce. Also the positioning of the vents helps in ease of airflow and cooling of the product which leads to efficient productivity during processing the produce. Besides the Punnets are produced using r-PET Films.

In fact, R-PET 100% is environmentally sustainable, as it uses only recycled materials; it is also economically sustainable, as the difference of cost compared to the usual virgin raw material is moderate, and finally it is sustainable with respect to food safety.
